Principal's Message

Today and tomorrow student/educator/parent conferences will be held. We ask that you come to support your children, learn what is expected at school, and find out what your children have been learning. We are excited to share with you that we are an AVID school, and what that means to your child. Your child's teacher is prepared to share with you AVID strategies that will help your child be successful in school now, and prepare to go to college later.

Author Visited Mountain View

Mountain View was honored to host Duncan Tonatiuh, an award-winning author of children's books, on September 20. Mr. Tonatiuh spent time with our teachers after school, and then spent an hour with students, parents, teachers and guests reading his books, and speaking about how he writes and illustrates books. We are grateful to the Center for Latin American Studies at the University of Utah for sponsoring this author's visit. Some of Mr. Tonatiuh's books can now be found in our school library. Please come check them out, and read them to your family.

Parents and Principals

The principals would love to meet you, share what is new at Mountain View, and answer any questions you might have. Our next Parents and Principals discussion will be held in the Community Learning Center on Tuesday, October 4 at 8:30. We hope to see you there.

Early Release on September 29

On September 29 we will release students from school at 12:40 so that teachers and parents can meet for conferences. Please make arrangements for your children at that time. School will not be held on September 30 as teachers will be attending professional development classes.
